A rock formation is blown sky high somewhere in the Carolinas as engineers blast a right-of-way for the oil pipeline from Baton Rouge, La., to Bremen, Ga., and Greensboro, N. C. When the 1,200 miles of pipes are in operation, seven southeastern states will be supplied with oil without danger from Axis submarines.

TOJO REPORTS ON VICTORIES

Claims 210,000 Prisoners,
Much Plunder; Admits
Few Losses

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts)—March 12.—Premier General Hideki Tojo told a special session of the Japanese diet today that Japan has captured more than 210,000 prisoners since the start of war in the Pacific.

To the diet, summoned to celebrate the conquest of the Dutch East Indies and hear reports on the first three months of the war, Tojo repeated the claim that "the main fleet of the United States and Britain already has disappeared from the surface of the Pacific," and that "all enemy strongholds in the southwest Pacific are in our hands."

He added that "Japan's defense position along the northern border (the frontier with Soviet Russia) is solid."

Japan's navy minister, Admiral Shigetaro Shimada, in his part of the summarization, said 130 United Nations warships had been sunk. He declared that the Japanese navy losses were "only four destroyers, four submarines, five special vessels, four minesweepers and 27 transports."

General Tojo said Japanese planes and guns had shot down or destroyed on the ground more than 1,600 planes and Japanese forces had captured 2,100 pieces of artillery, 180,000 rifles, machine guns and pistols, and 28,000 tanks, motor cars and railway cars.

This list would be increased, he said, when detailed information was received from the Burma front on the capture of Rangoon.

The premier said many "industrial establishments and other vital resources" in the Netherlands Indies had been found to have suffered relatively little damage and were being rehabilitated.

Admiral Shimada said United Nations naval losses since the start of the war included seven battleships, three aircraft carriers, 12 cruisers, 42 destroyers, 44 submarines and 42 other warships sunk; and four battleships, and 72 other warships including cruisers and destroyers damaged.

Operations From Norway
To Murmansk Indicated
In Allied Actions

LINK WITH RUSSIA IS PRIMARY GOAL

Front Across Tip Of Fin-

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 12.—Cumulative military and political evidence indicates the imminence of highly important operations centering about the area between the desolate North cape at the top of Norway and the cruel 1,000-foot cliffs on the Russian Murmansk coast.

Major air and naval operations already are under way, involving German capital ships, British torpedo planes undoubtedly operating from an aircraft carrier, other British warships and United Nations convoys.

These cannot be explained entirely by the routine movement of American and British supplies to Archangel. More than one competent analyst is considering whether the western Allied powers will pound a wedge of well-equipped power into the top of Europe when the midnight sun shines this coming summer.

Chances Good for Success

Free Europe, a review of international affairs published in London, said today that an Allied spring offensive in the west should have a good chance of success, for the forces now concentrated in the British isles presumably are stronger than those the Germans have disposed from Kirkness, Norway, to Hendaye, France.

This commentary declared that both military and political reasons commended Norway as a spot where the Allies could strike with overwhelming forces. It added that control of Upper Scandinavia would give the United Nations a convenient link with Russia through Finland and would put them in position to strike directly into the heart of Germany.

An offensive there might well be the extra contribution to Russia's cause which the Soviet union gives every evidence of expecting. There is plenty to win. A successful push could wipe Finland from the war, open and protect the whole Allied-Russian supply line via the excellent port of Murmansk and re-establish the Allies in Norway.

A common U. S. -British-Russian fighting front could be thrown quickly across the thin tip of Finland and this front in time might provide the impetus Russia needs to turn the whole German northern flank and collapse it upon the Baltic states and East Prussia itself.

Throughout the winter the world has almost forgotten about the Murmansk front. The Germans and Finns there have huddled sometimes, but the Allies have not.

The oil industry proposed to Petroleum Coordinator Ickes that consumption be cut one-fourth by a rigid ration card system, to cope with an acute supply condition resulting from the sinking or diversion of tankers which haul oil from gulf ports to the seaboard.

Recognizing that perfection of a card system might require weeks, the industry report recommended that Ickes employ an interim program, effective immediately, curtailing by 25 percent the gasoline supplies for the area's 100,000 service stations, with each retailer apportioning the available fuel among his customers.

Moreover, the industry asked that all these service stations be put under a 7 p. m.-7 a. m. curfew, that fuel oil deliveries be cut and that the world's largest pipeline system be built from the southwest to the New York-Philadelphia area.

Prompt action was promised by Ickes, but he said late yesterday that he could not predict "to what extent we shall follow the industry's recommendations." He described the east's supply situation as "very acute." The seaboard area embraces 17 states and the District of Columbia.

A possibility that rationing may spread later to other areas was seen in a part of the industry statement which said "we therefore believe that enough tank car transportation must be taken away from other districts to increase the petroleum supplies for this district even if this means rationing for the midwest and southwest."

Hunters To Organize

LISBON, March 12.—Columbiana county hunters and owners of high-powered rifles will be enrolled in a new state-wide defense program outlined by the state defense council under the direction of Conservation Commissioner Don Waters. Deputy Game Warden L. W. Boring announced today.

Serial Numbers Are Certified To Draft Officials

Columbiana county's three draft boards have certified serial numbers to state selective service headquarters for the third national lottery Tuesday.

The highest serial number, T-2204, was reported by board No. 1 at East Liverpool. Board No. 2 in Salem listed 1,983 new registrants, T-1983 being certified as the high number. Board No. 3 at Lisbon reported 1,670 registrants.

Assignment of serial numbers followed the shuffling of the green cards here recently.

The highest serial number certified by any board in the nation, plus an additional 100 numbers, will determine the number of capsules which will be drawn in the third lottery on Tuesday.

Lists of all the new registrants by serial numbers will be posted in the local board's headquarters at the Memorial building within a few days.

Registrants are asked to call in person at local boards if they desire to learn their order number prior to Tuesday. State selective service headquarters pointed out today that board could not undertake to give out serial numbers by phone or mail. Some boards have been swamped with requests in recent days.

The sequence in which questionnaires will be mailed will be determined by the national drawing.

Volunteers Will Register
Friday, Saturday At City Hall

Interesting and educational courses of study in fire fighting and police work in connection with war time operations await the men who register Friday and Saturday as volunteers for the city's auxiliary fire and police squads which are soon to be organized.

Registration of the volunteers will take place at city hall from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 10 p. m. both days.

The evening registration is planned to help those who will be unable to sign up during the afternoon.

Volunteers for the police auxiliary must be at least 21 years of age. Men 18 years and up will be enrolled for the fire department. Those under 21, however, must have parental consent.

Members of the Fire and Property Protection committee of the Salem defense council, with stacks of registration cards at their elbows, will take the names of the volunteers calling at city hall.

Those "enlisting" for the fire department will be required to take a training course covering at least 20 hours. Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy said. Chief R. N. Stoffer of the police department explained that his plans had not been completed.

When the volunteers register they will be asked to designate which evening of the week is most convenient for them to meet to cover the preliminary training phases. After the registrants have been assigned to different groups, they will start to learn the ABC's of fire fighting, fire prevention, police protection and espionage. First aid instruction also is planned.

The auxiliary firemen, who also will be organized into rescue squads, will learn how to control and extinguish major fires, how to assemble emergency equipment, storage, fire prevention, the rescue of persons from demolished or burning buildings, the duties and responsibilities of air raid wardens and fire watchers.

FIVE ARE INJURED
IN TWO ACCIDENTS

Five persons suffered injuries in two district traffic mishaps Wednesday afternoon, according to hospital and state highway patrol reports.

Three were hurt when a car driven by Winifred Davis, 20, of East Palestine, skidded and struck a tree on Route 14 at Unity early in the morning. They were treated at Salem City hospital at 11:30 a. m.

Miss Davis suffered from shock, lacerations of the face and bruises of the chest and legs. Ethel May Cairns of Darlington suffered from shock and body abrasions. A third passenger, Carl Dutch, 26, of East Palestine, received lacerations of the face and body and also suffered from shock.

The other accident occurred on Route 173, one mile west of Sebring, at 4:15 p. m. when a machine driven by Gustave Falk, 24, of 496 W. Pershing st., Salem, skidded into the rear of a machine which was parked partially on the highway. The second car was owned by Harvey Gretzinger, 59, of Beloit.

Falk received a bruised shin, while Walter Kinn, 18, also of Salem, who was riding with Falk, suffered a bruised knee, the patrol reported.

Axis Claiming Heavy New

BULLETIN

(By Associated Press)
The Russians were reported today to have hurled 90-odd armored and infantry divisions, perhaps 1,500,000 men, into a great offensive on the southern front stretching from Tarnopol on the Sea of Azov up to the vicinity of Kharkov in the upper Ukraine.

Simultaneously, they were heavily attacking in the Orel sector, some 250 miles above Kharkov and 200 miles south of Moscow, and about Staraya Russa, the area where the 16th German army is encircled below Leningrad.

All this indicated that the Soviet command had embarked upon the greatest offensive action since the beginning of the Russian campaign.

(By Associated Press)
Russia's armies were reported today to have broken through German lines guarding the direct approaches to Smolensk, key Nazi stronghold 230 miles west of Moscow, and front-line dispatches said German positions on the whole vast region north of Smolensk were now endangered by the Soviet counter-offensive.

Red army troops scored another important break-through north of Lake Ilmen on the Leningrad front, it was reported, smashing strong German defense positions.

Swedes Increasing

Soviet front-line dispatches said the remnants of 96,000 German soldiers trapped in the Staraya Russa sector, below Lake Ilmen, were bolstering their dwindling food supplies with horsemeat and that suicides were increasing among the beleaguered Nazis.

The trapped German 16th army, which had already lost 12,000 men, was said to have suffered additional thousands of casualties in the last few days.

Heavy new blows against the Allies at sea were claimed by the Axis today, with the Germans asserting that 823,200 tons of shipping had been sunk in American waters and the Italians reporting success in attacking "a great British naval squadron" in the eastern Mediterranean.

Hit Three Cruisers, Claim

Premier Mussolini's high command said waves of Italian torpedo-carrying planes scored hits on three British cruisers and probably sank one of them.

This action was repeated by German planes and submarines, which renewed the attack and hit with certainty two more naval units of the enemy," the Fascist high command said.

An Italian submarine was acknowledged missing.

The German version of the Mediterranean battle listed five British cruisers as damaged—three hit by Italian torpedo planes, another by German bombers, and the fifth hit twice by Nazi U-boat torpedoes.

Adolf Hitler's high command, in a special communique, said German submarines operating in North and Central American waters had sunk 17 more merchant ships, totalling 106,000 tons, making a total of 772,500 tons sunk by Nazi raiders off the American coast.

Italian submarines were credited by the Berlin radio with sinking an additional 50,700 tons.

SCHOOL BUSES FOR WAR WORKERS URGED

COLUMBUS, March 12.—The state department of education favors the use of school buses to transport war industry workers to and from factories, a spokesman said today.

O. E. Hill, assistant state director of education, asserted that the department would approve consignation of the vehicles to aid the defense effort so long as drivers met their "primary obligation of taking the boys and girls to and from school."

He added, however, that approximately one-third of the state's 7,000 buses were owned by boards of education, and "there is one question of the legality of using them for other purposes." Contract operators would be free to establish routes.

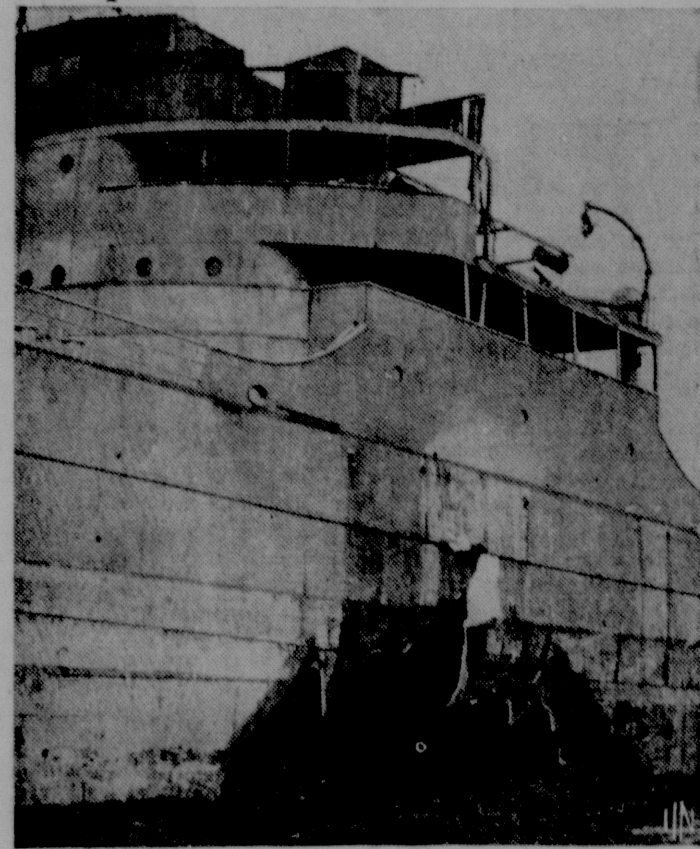

George McConaughy, chairman of the state utilities commission, suggested the transportation program as a means of conserving tires on civilian automobiles.

"It is uneconomical to use so many private cars in the face of this rubber scarcity which may last a long time," McConaughy said at a state defense meeting.

Ohio Industries

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, March 12.—One of the largest water conservation projects ever planned in Ohio received tentative endorsement of the state water supply board today, giving the entire northeastern section of the state from Cleveland to Stark county prospects of new industrial life.

Hearing that the Grand river could be impounded at its Geauga county headquarters and partially diverted into both the Cuyahoga and Mahoning rivers, the board voted to cooperate with the U. S. Geological survey in measuring the Grand river's flow as part of a statewide survey of water resources.

List Gauge Cost

Cost to the state for purchase and operation of five flow gauges will be $2,150 the first year and $1,250 annually during the test. Two gauges would be located on the Grand river, one on Phelps creek, one on Rock creek and one on Mill creek.

DECREE ISSUED BY PRESIDENT VARGAS

Blames Germans For At-

zilian Merchantmen

BULLETIN

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 12.—An angry crowd of several hundred persons, some shouting, "kill them!" broke the show window of a blacklisted German firm today on Rio de Janeiro's main street, Avenida Rio Branca.

The curbstone, directed chiefly at the German store, Casa Lohner, came just after noon and followed upon anti-Axis measures taken by the Brazilian government.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 12.—Brazil today confiscated up to 30 per cent of the funds of Axis subjects in this country in a decree which branded Germany, Italy and Japan as aggressors and strengthened belief that a declaration of war might follow.

The decree by President Getulio Vargas against the confiscations was based on "acts of war practiced against the American continent," and singled out Germany as particularly responsible.

Since Germany, Italy and Japan are allies, they are "united in aggression," the decree stated.

Blames Nazis for Sinkings

It blamed Germany for failure to pay admitted obligations for damage to a Brazilian ship in the Mediterranean some time ago and for attacks on peaceful unarmed Brazilian merchantmen—at least four of which have been sunk recently off the Atlantic coasts of the United States.

In explanation of holding Axis nationals accountable, Vargas concluded:

"In conditions of modern war civil populations find themselves strictly linked to the fate of armed forces, and their activity is, more than in any other epoch of history, a determining element in the result of war operations."

Brazil broke off diplomatic relations with Germany, Italy and Japan on Jan. 28.

Informed legal sources said that a phrase in the decree calling for seizure of property held by "juridical persons" practicing acts of aggression referred to the Axis governments themselves and meant that Brazil would take over the embassies and consulates of those nations.

Axis Subjects Must Answer

The Vargas decree said "the property and rights of German, Japanese and Italian persons or legal subjects must answer for harm which has resulted or may result from acts of aggression by Germany, Japan and Italy."

Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha said Brazil "views the situation with calmness and serenity," but he added grimly:

"The government will take all necessary steps to safeguard the welfare of the country and observe commitments to hemisphere defense."

Observers believed that President Getulio Vargas and Foreign Minister Aranha would avoid actual war as long as possible while taking reprisals for attacks upon shipping and the loss of Brazilian lives.

STATIONS LISTED
FOR DRAFT SPEEDUP

COLUMBUS, March 12.—Induction stations for Ohioans were selected today for use when the army's speed-up mobilization plans go into effect late this month, selective service headquarters announced today.

Under the new plan, effective late this month, registrants who have passed preliminary physical examinations given by local board physicians will report for final physical examinations at the induction stations. If passed by army examiners they will be taken into the army immediately, then given 10-day furloughs if necessary to clean up personal affairs.

"Final" induction stations will be located at Toledo (Wall St. Army Bldg.); Cleveland (Underm Bldg., 1250 Ontario); Columbus (96 N. High st.); Cincinnati (Woodford bldg., 424 E. 4th); Akron (location undetermined yet); and Huntington, W. Va. (National Guard Armory).

After induction, Ohioans will be sent to reception centers at Fort Hayes, Columbus; Camp Perry, Port Clinton; Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and Fort Thomas, Ky.

AMERICA WILL CONTROL THE AIR

A sweeping navy department reorganization follows the war department's recent shakeup. Both seem to have done something momentous for the military prestige of United States aviation, besides streamlining the armed services for combat conditions. Without fanfare, military flying has come into its own—and perhaps a little more.

Old-line officers in both services have been accused of conspiring against aviation, though it is more likely they simply lacked imagination in the use of a weapon to which they were not accustomed. In any event, a secretary for air with full cabinet rank had been proposed to offset their influence. The thing that has been done sounds more practical.

Secretary of War Stimson has stated that one of the purposes of his department's reorganization is to give the air corps its proper place; the same motive can be discerned in the navy's reorganization. It seems to mean that the United States, gearing itself for mass production of planes, is preparing the organization to use them to best advantage when they are ready.

What may seem like routine shakeups here undoubtedly signify to military experts on the other side that the country they have to beat, before they can win the war is preparing realistically to wrest control of the air from them when the showdown comes. The plan is to beat them at their own game; their head start in aviation alone has represented their military advantage.

ONE MORE FAMILIAR CHARACTER

The New York Herald Tribune observed the other day that the sizzling political scandal in which No. 1 Democrat Edward J. Flynn is being accused of misusing his political power to floss up his private property is like an old, familiar farce. There is the Big Political Leader (played by Mr. Flynn); the Ousted Official Who Tells All (played by Paul J. Kern); the District Attorney Who Rebukes the Ousted Official for Telling All (played by Samuel J. Foley); and the Outraged Mayor (played by Fiorello LaGuardia).

It's hard to see how the Herald Tribune missed another familiar character in political free-for-alls. By a coincidence, his picture was in the same edition. He is the Lawyer Who Collects the Big Fee for Dishing Up the Dirt (played by Emil K. Ellis, who presented New York City a bill for $197,968 for making the investigation that resulted in Mr. Kern being ousted from the presidency of the civil service commission).

COMPLACENCY NOW IS UNOFFICIAL

The President's insistence in his latest public address that newspaper editors and commentators have misrepresented the facts about national complacency even the score and the issue now can be closed.

The newspapers were not, of course, unanimous, but many of them had been insisting that it was the politicians in Washington who had been misrepresenting the facts about popular complacency. The people were not complacent, these papers said; they were worried to a fare-thee-well and wanted their government to snap out of it. In other words, argued the papers, the people were remembering Pearl Harbor, but feared Washington was remembering WPA. That was when things got so hot that Mrs. Roosevelt, her dancing instructor protege and a few more super-duper bondholders left the office of civilian defense.

But that's all water over the dam now. Complacency is unofficial. Mr. Roosevelt is against it the way the late Calvin Coolidge used to be against sin. The newspapers are against it the way they always have been against wrong-doing. If complacency ever existed, which is doubtful, surely it will be routed. It may not be too much to hope that damfoolishness, which is always with us, may be routed too.

THIRTY YEARS OF GIRL SCOUTING

Every war produces many new civilian organizations. Most of them spring up to meet current needs and disband as soon as their immediate purpose is served. Every war also acts as a proving ground for established organizations. Those that are not prepared for emergencies soon find themselves forgotten by a public that demands action and efficiency. Those that are prepared go on to wider usefulness and greater service to the nation.

All this is by way of pointing out that the Girl Scouts of the United States this month celebrate thirty years of service—service that proved its worth in the last war and is proving it again.

The Scout motto is "Be Prepared". The Girl Scouts of Salem have certainly lived up to it. They might be pardoned for stopping work a moment to point with pride to their record. They could do a lot more if more women—and men too—would realize that democracy's future depends upon the proper training of its youth. If America is to win the peace as well as the war, today's boys and girls must "Be Prepared" to do the job.

Those who opined there would be much bad news from the Far East before there was anything cheerful, certainly have proved themselves masters of understatement.

If Congress followed the lead of truck drivers and marked all bills No Riders, legislation would be a lot less complicated.

There seems no disposition to deny the report that the secretary of the treasury intends to make the public tax conscious.

Promotion, preferment, friendships of the mighty, social and financial prestige as well as public recognition and domestic or affectional felicity should be assured. In all contacts be alert to minor treacheries or subtleties.

A child born on this day should be generously endowed with many abilities, forces and influences, and reach a high place in prestige, public esteem and personal gratifications and joys.

Another thing we've been wondering about is if keeping the furnace going is another one of the volunteer fire warden's duties.

Java is another instance in which the most planes and war machinery, manned by the enemy, got there first.

Immediately after March 15 you should commence saving money with which to pay your 1942 income taxes.

We have reached the time when it is better to produce than to spend the time boasting of our producing capacity.

SPEEDING UP NURSES' TRAINING

Courses of Instruction Are Shortened

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
THE PROBLEM of supplying doctors for the Army, Navy and public health services, as well as to keep intact medical service in civilian life was discussed in this column last week. We are also short of nurses. The problem of supplying nurses is simpler than that of making up the deficit of doctor material.

I sat in the other day on a conversation with a group of doctors who expressed the unanimous opinion that nurses could be trained in three months and after their training they would be able to do 80 per cent of the work that a trained nurse is now doing.

This opinion will probably be very unacceptable to directors of nurses' training schools and trained nurses in general. Perhaps the nursing profession will find after the war is over that they will have to revise their standards and their hour requirements.

Time Shortened

The opinion was expressed before the organization of the Volunteer Nurse Aide Corps. This organization has even shortened the time mentioned by my doctor friends, since its courses, when completed, will turn out such nurse aides in about five weeks. The total course is 80 hours, consisting of about 34 hours of lectures, demonstrations, the care of sick in a hospital and about 45 hours of supervised practice in a hospital. One hour of the 80 is devoted to examinations.

Course of Instruction

The course for the Volunteer Nurse Aide Corps includes instruction in making beds, giving baths, recording the intake of liquids and the output of urine and evacuation, assembling equipment for various simple procedures—for enemas, lavage, hot water bottles, ice bags, oxygen administration, renewing and applying casts, bandages, slings and so forth.

One item is instruction in taking temperatures, pulses and respiration, which anybody can learn and which is one of the most important pieces of information a doctor can have about a patient. I presume the lectures of demonstrations will cover the subjects of elementary first-aid, infectious fever nursing, the ordinary principles of asepsis and sterilization.

HUTCH

OF THE R.A.F.

by PETER MUIR

SYNOPSIS
Forced down on a golf course in Kent, England, David "Hutch" Hutchinson, American flyer with the famous "Hornets" squadron of the R. A. F., meets lovely Wendy. The latter, an ambulance driver on leave, is the daughter of Lord and Lady Harrowsdale, whose state, "The Downs," is nearby. Just as David finishes repairing an ill leak, he sees three Messerschmitts chasing a single Spitfire. He joins the battle just as the British flyer and one Nazi crash. Hutch downs one of the remaining enemy planes; the other disappears to the clouds. When news comes of "The Downs" that Philip, Wendy's brother, is to take the place of a "Hornet" who crashed early, the girl's heart sinks for fear it was David. The young American had made quite an impression on her. She is overcome with emotion when Philip telephones that David is safe. In the meantime, Hutch has returned to base, only to learn that his captain and friend, John McCall, was the flyer who had "bought it" an R. A. F. term for dying in combat. In the mess-hall, two of Hutch's buddies, Arthur Stafford and Rusty Ransome, do their best to cheer him up. Word comes that a fleet of bombers was sighted over Hastings. Hutch is made squadron leader in Mac's place. Just as the "Hornets" are about to go to the attack, Philip joins them. In flight, Hutch radios a welcome. After a brief encounter, an anti-aircraft report that three bombers fell in the vicinity, so the Commanding Officer credits the Hornets. Hutch goes to the hospital with a shoulder wound, disappointed that he will be rounded for a few weeks.

CHAPTER NINE
Broth and toast were served to Hutch by the same nurse who had brought the anti-tetanus and, after he had finished it, she said good night and put out the light.
How long he lay there in the dark, tossing restlessly and thinking, he could not say. It must have been hours before sleep came, and during that time a general summing-up of the last few days passed through his mind; a resume that was not always on the pleasant side. There were the pilots he had shot down, seen crash to their deaths to be burned and mangled beyond recognition. Of course, this had been done in fair combat. It was one or the other, and, as long as he could, he preferred to be the victor. But the poor devils must have families back home in the Fatherland who loved them, and would mourn for them, feel their loss dreadfully.
Well, he had a family, too, in far off Virginia. He must think of them, of his mother and father, of Betty and Kate, his sisters. For their sakes he had to defend himself. Poor old Mac! He had been so alive, so full of life only that morning. Hutch could see him plainly, running full speed across the field when the signal had come, yelling to the other pilots, "A scramble! Hurry up, a scramble!" He had always been the most enthusiastic of all for a fight, the first

But it was the mother, with her woman's insight, who was right. As the train rumbled along towards London, through which she must pass to reach Watford, Wendy thought of nothing and no one except David Hutchinson. She admitted frankly to herself that it was love-at-first-sight as sure as it existed. The young American had hit the mark in her heart leaving a pleasant wound, and she was enjoying its pleasant, throbbing sensation. . . . Wendy did not think of him by his family name, but as David. It was a nice name and she liked it. In fact she liked everything about him; his face, his figure, his eyes, the tousled hair, simplicity of nature, gay laugh, embarrassment, and above all his courage. This was the kind of man she had always dreamed of marrying.
The thought that 1940 was leap year came to Wendy and she smiled. Should she put the question? Why not? It was a crazy, topsy-turvy world anyway. When would she see him again? She determined to arrange that through Phil. What luck that her brother had been assigned to the same squadron! Where The Hornets were stationed she did not know. Flying fields were the most secreted places in England. However, a letter would reach him. Something might be arranged at The Downs, a week-end, or something. It would have to be handled with tact so that no one would suspect, especially David. She wondered how her mother and father would like the idea. They had hinted several times that they would like her to marry the son of a neighbor, young Lord Leslie Gordon, but she knew that she could never be in love with the chap. He was a good pal, and all that, yet not what she wished for a husband, especially now that she knew David. Of course Phil would simply adore him. She was aware of her brother's weakness for heroes.

Her father and mother couldn't help liking him, only there was that foolish, old-fashioned business of titles. They had set their hearts on having a son-in-law who would sit in the House of Lords, and all that sort of rot. Wendy couldn't help looking on it as rot at a time like the present. The only things that were worth while now were liberty and freedom. They must be conserved at any cost, and certainly David was doing more than his part to defend them.

OTIS STEEL SALE TO J.-L. PROPOSED

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, March 12—Shareholders of the Otis Steel Co. will meet at a special meeting April 24 on a plan of sale and liquidation uniting Otis' assets to Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., increasing the latter's ingot capacity about 1,000,000 net tons to 4,931,200 net tons.

Jones & Laughlin, capitalized at $258,944,000, has plants at Pittsburgh and Alliquippa, Pa., produces a diversified line of rolled steel products, and owns and operates iron ore and coal properties with annual output of about 4,000,000 tons of ore and 5,000,000 tons of coal.

In acquiring Otis' two Cleveland plants, Jones & Laughlin would remain the steel industry's fourth ranking producer. The $38,000,000 Cleveland firm specializes in strip, an item of minor volume in Jones & Laughlin.

E. J. Kulas, president of Otis, said in announcing the plan the

Millionaire And Christian Layman To Speak In Salem

Robert G. LeTourneau of Peoria, Ill., termed America's No. 1 Christian layman, will speak in Salem Sunday, March 22, under auspices of the Ministerial association.

He will speak during the worship period at the First Baptist church at 10:45 a. m., again at 3 p. m. at a city-wide youth rally in the same church and at 7:30 p. m. at a mass meeting in the High school auditorium.

Mr. LeTourneau, who quit school at the age of 14 to work in a Portland, Ore. foundry, has since become a millionaire. He is president of R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., manufacturers of heavy grading equipment with plants at Peoria, Ill., Stockton, Calif., and Toccoa, Ga.

A staunch believer in tithing, the industrialist goes farther than that by setting aside 90 per cent of his stock for religious purposes. To date he has given more than ten million dollars to religious enterprises.

The LeTourneau foundation finances and promotes all LeTourneau religious activities. The foundation was chartered in 1935 when he dedicated the greater portion of his personal stock in his company to evangelical religious work.

The LeTourneau foundation is ranked as the 12th largest foundation and the largest religious foundation in the United States. Its purpose is to teach and disseminate

$14,666 IS MONTH'S TOTAL FOR RELIEF

LISBON, March 12—Despite greatly improved industrial conditions, Columbiana county's relief business for February amounted to $14,666.36, as revealed in a report by Director John W. Orr, filed with the commissioners today. This compares with $14,687.81 for the preceding month.

February relief for the entire county, including the four cities, amounted to $8,778 in orange food stamps, with which $4,389 was issued in blue surplus commodity stamps, while $1,099.36 was expended for coal, soap and other articles which could not be purchased with stamps, and clothing was given out to an estimated value of $400.

The costs of administration including county sponsored WPA projects, amounted to $1,462.20, for which the county was given a credit of $400 in charge-back from the cities for the handling of all relief files and issuing of stamps.

Administration costs included: Relief department, $535.07; stamp department, $448.59; surplus commodity department, $265.69; WPA certification, $143.60; pre-audit $14.10; sewing project, $30, and housekeeping aid, $25.15.

If you suffer MONTHLY FEMALE PAIN which makes you WEAK, CRANKY Nervous—

If at such times you're annoyed by cramps, headaches, backache, distress of "irregularities," a bloated feeling, periods of the blues—due to functional monthly disturbances—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This famous liquid not only helps relieve monthly pain but also tired, nervous feelings of such days when due to this cause. Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound is one medicine you can buy today made especially for women—taken regularly it helps build up resistance against such symptoms. Follow label directions. Worth trying!

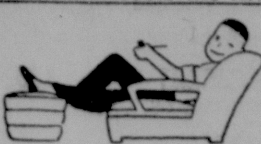

Mr. A

Mr. A's income is $150 per month. His average monthly outgo for scattered obligations, plus his rent and everyday expenses, leaves him only $11 each month.

Mr. A gets a "SELF-DEFENSE" loan of $200. His monthly payments are $15.10 for 15 months. He pays off all his debts, plus insurance and taxes, and finds he now has $32 left each month for his own good use.

Mr. A uses this extra money to good advantage. Instead of repaying $15.10 on his loan the first three months, according to schedule, he repays $25 each month. This reduces the principal of his loan to $125 because a "SELF-DEFENSE" loan carries no interest charges or other costs the first three months.

Mr. A can then repay the balance leisurely at only $12.20 per month for 12 months. On this balance of $125 he pays only our standard rate of interest... no more. We think Mr. A was pretty smart, don't you? Yes, and you can do it too. Just ask us for the loan you need... $100 to $1000.

Rural Women Study Economics Of Home

Rural women of Columbiana county will study household economies, drying and storing of vegetables and fruits, and a continuation of the salad project for the 1942-43 extension program, as planned by the home council members at a meeting last week in the Lisbon city hall.

Home council members reporting for their own townships decided that homemakers throughout the county will be interested in learning ways of reducing cleaning costs during the coming year. Those meetings on household economies will include information on buying and making soap, other homemade cleaning materials, and methods of making, such as silver polish, window cleaner, dustless dusters, and care of various types of materials.

Instead of having township meetings, as has been the custom in the past, three or four community meetings will be held in each township to make it easier for homemakers to get to the meetings.

Homemakers are already planning new ways of preserving fruits and vegetables, to be held in June.
Demonstrations on ways of storing vegetables will follow sometime in September.

"The Making of Salads" project will be continued by leaders in community groups where the project was not given this past year.
A county-wide meeting on "Homemade Christmas" may be held in November.

Mrs. Russell Miller, president of the home council, was selected to represent Columbiana county home extension council at a nutrition conference to be held in Columbus
March 26, 27, 28.

Home council members are now working on their annual achievement day program, which will be held April 10 in the Presbyterian church in Lisbon. All homemakers interested in the home extension program are invited to attend.

Soil Conservation District May Be Established In County

LISBON, March 12.—How farmers can more effectively carry on soil erosion control work through the organization of a soil conservation district is being discussed at a series of township meetings being held in Columbiana county this month.
A motion picture on erosion and erosion control is being shown at each of the meetings.

Floyd Lower, county extension agent, John Strausbaugh, assistant, and Earl Shade, of the soil conservation service, Mt. Vernon, are attending the meetings to lead the discussion and answer questions.
Meetings have already been held in several townships. The schedule of meetings yet to be held follows:

A law was passed by the last legislature providing for the establishment of soil conservation districts in Ohio. The law required a petition signed by at least 75 landowners in order for a hearing and a referendum to be held. Petitions filed from Columbiana county bore the names of 349 landowners.

The state soil conservation committee, which was recently appointed by Governor Bricker, held its first meeting on March 4, and received the petitions from Columbiana county, along with Highland and Clark counties. The state committee has set 10 a. m. March 26 as the time of the hearing to be held in the state office building in Columbus pertaining to the establishment of a district in the county. If the hearing is favorable, a date for a referendum will be set, at which time landowners in the rural areas will vote on the proposal.

If 65 of those voting vote favorably, the district will be set up and the landowners will elect a board of five farmers who will supervise the work in the district.
There are no compulsory features in the law, and, therefore, it affects none except those who

Upon completion of the schooling, the seasoned volunteers will have passed their probationary period and will be ready to help the regular firemen at all times.

Bomb squads will be a part of the police auxiliary, according to defense council plans. Other duties will include the training of civilian population, the control of movements, clearing of streets, assisting the wounded, maintaining fire watch, insuring blackouts, extinguishing small fires and combating incendiaries.

where about the city and on the Rybachy peninsula to the north-west, quiescent but close enough, it appears, to make it necessary for Allied supplies to proceed on east to Archangel. The northern end of the Russian counter-offensive has, however, freed captured sections of the railway line running south to Leningrad and beyond.

Something Big Seen

Now, however, there are these significant military and political developments to show that something big is stirring.

The Germans have moved at least four big ships, the super battleship Tirpitz, the pocket battleship Admiral Scheer, and the heavy cruisers Admiral Hipper and Prinz Eugen, to the Norwegian coast, apparently to keep the Allies out of the north.

British torpedo planes beat at the Tirpitz Monday somewhere north of Trondheim, and, the Germans say, British planes were in the air as far north as Bear Island, indicating the presence of at least one British aircraft carrier.

None of this naval-air action can be dissociated from Washington's announcement this week of a "commander, U. S. naval forces operating in European waters," to which command Admiral Harold R. Stark has been assigned.

Meanwhile Russian troops on the Ladoga front above Leningrad have increased their pressure on Finns and Germans. This could have been timed to precede new pressure farther north.

Politically, it is now reported reliably that Joseph Stalin, aside from the obvious military advantage of a second front, is anxious to have the field forces of his allies in the line with Russian troops, from now until the day these armies can enter Germany. He is represented as believing that this will do much to make the U. S. and Britain fully appreciative of both Russia's wartime needs and of the territorial protection she feels will be her post-war necessity.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Seeks Auditor's Job

I. J. Vorndran of East Liverpool today announced his candidacy for county auditor on the Republican ticket at the county primaries Aug. 11.

Vorndran, a graduate of East Liverpool High school, served in the first World war and is a member of veterans organizations in the Grand river watershed's 712 square miles is now apparent, LaRue and Lloyd contended. The Mahoning river at Warren has 599 square miles of catchment and at Youngstown has 899 square miles, they said.

AUXILIARY PATROL RESUMES STUDIES

About 60 members of the Columbiana county auxiliary highway patrol were present in David Anderson High school at Lisbon last night when first aid topics, and demonstrations were given.

The instructions were given by regular officers, including Corp. James Bower and Patrolman Herbert Krogh of Salem and Corp. H. W. Anderson and Patrolman R. J. Shaw and P. S. Kinsey of Warren.

Police Resume Traffic Check: Tickets Issued

Enforcement of parking regulations in the downtown district was resumed by police yesterday as they started issuing court summonses to motorists whose automobiles were parked overtime or otherwise illegally parked.

Cold weather and recent snowfalls have prevented the police from marking automobile tires with chalk in the traffic check.

Get Coal Now, Is Tip

COLUMBUS, March 12.—Fill your coal bin now to avoid possible rationing next fall, Ohioans were advised today. George B. Chandler, vice president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, said that transportation difficulties later in the year may cut deliveries despite an abundant supply.

Couple Shot To Death

COLUMBUS, March 12.—Donald R. Mauck, 32, and his wife Dorothy, 28, were found shot to death in their home last night. Coroner E. E. Smith said that Mauck, a press operator, apparently killed his wife and then shot himself. Lucille Ohde, who lived with the couple, said Mauck had objected to his wife working.

Mize Returns To Workouts

MIAMI, Fla. — First baseman Johnny Mize of the Giants, his right shoulder taped again, worked out yesterday but didn't accompany the team to Miami Beach for its game with the Phils. So far as the big fellow's throwing arm is concerned, nothing further can be learned until the tape is removed.

BIG WATER SUPPLY PLAN IS ENDORSED

Would Impound Grand River To Aid Northeast Ohio Industries

the plan as outlined in a letter from W. R. LaRue, Akron city engineer.

Both the Akron and Mahoning valley industrial areas need more water for expansion of war industries, and the Grand river is the most feasible source, Lloyd told the board.

The diversion plan envisages a huge dam at the Grand river headwaters from which at least 50,000,000 gallons could be pumped daily into the Cuyahoga river and an unestimated but large supply sent into the Mahoning river through a cut in the divide between the two watersheds.

Lloyd and LaRue said Mahoning valley industries used 800,000,500 gallons of water a day in making 10 per cent of the nation's steel. It takes 7,000 gallons of water to produce one ton of pig iron.

No great industrial drain on the Grand river watershed's 712 square miles is now apparent, LaRue and Lloyd contended. The Mahoning river at Warren has 599 square miles of catchment and at Youngstown has 899 square miles, they said.

Compare Flow Rates

They reported a minimum flow of 24 million gallons daily at Warren and 42 millions at Youngstown against an average of 270 millions at Warren, and 550 millions at Youngstown, necessitating provision for more water in dry seasons.

The Grand river starts in Portage and Cuyahoga counties, flows north into Ashtabula county and empties into Lake Erie at Painesville. The Mahoning starts in Columbiana county and runs through Stark county, Warren and Youngstown.

The water supply board hired a civil engineer, David H. Barker of Lafayette, Ind., to map the state's underground water supplies at a $3,600 annual salary. He will be assisted by part-time Ohio State university students.

Harker, at present drainage specialist for the Purdue university agriculture extension service, will begin work April 1.

LOUIS HARDER FOR SECOND BOUT WITH AMPLE ABIE SIMON

Heavy King In Best Shape Of Ring Career; Gives Army Life Credit

By SID FEDER
FORT DIX, N. J.—As though income tax time and the draft and such matters weren't enough just now, the heavyweights in general and Ample Abie Simon in particular have been informed that Joe Louis is stronger now than he's ever been.

Of course, this is like saying a red pepper is hotter when doused with mustard, but it is the awful truth, nevertheless, because Buck Private Joe, himself, says it's so. What's more, Joe says, this army life is the thing that turned the trick and changed him from a comparative weakling into the great big strong man he's suddenly become.

No Time For Fooling
"It's not only the army work and stuff," Private Joe said as he went through his chores in preparation for his March 27 Madison Square Garden party with Simon. "But when you're in the army, you don't get out as much. There's not so much time for foolin' around. So you just build up naturally."

Joe isn't kidding about that. His program these days is as full as a gladiator's date book. He's up at 6 a. m. for six miles of roadwork. When he comes back he takes an hour's nap, then sits down for some work with a knife and fork, and then has to run through his two-hour daily drill in his basic army training. After that, he has his work to do for the army emergency relief fund affair with Abie.

When dinner's over, any spare time before the lights go out at 10 o'clock can be used to play some table-tennis, toss some darts, have a whirl at gin rummy, checkers or some elegant five pouring from an electrical music box.

Will Weigh 205
"I'm in much better condition right now than I was after the same amount of training for Buddy Baer in January," Joe admits. "I'm five pounds less than what I was then, and I'll probably come in at 205 the night of the fight." (He weighed 205 for Buddy, and disposed of him with some six or eight punches.)

One look at Joe and gives the impression he's grown tremendously. A lot of this extra size, of course, is the excess weight he's taken of between now and March 25 when he wraps up training. But, while his legs are heavier and he moves somewhat slowly yet in the present preliminary sparring stages, the head man of the busted back set looks like a husky around the shoulders and somewhat bigger in the face and neck. It's too bad, too, because things were tough enough on those fellows who had to go into the ring with him up to now.

BIVINS EARNS NOD OVER LIGHT HEAVY CHAMP LESNEVICH

Titleholder Meets Floor Twice In Forest City Non-Title Bout

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, March 12.—Although Cus Lesnevich is the light heavyweight champion, Cleveland's Jimmy Bivins gave him such a lesson last night that Gus Co-man, manager, Lew Diamond, doesn't want any part of a return match.

"We'll never fight him again," Diamond declared after freely admitting brother Gus was far from the better scrapper in the ten round non-title fight before 9,429 Cleveland arena customers.

Living up to his pre-fight agreement, Bivins gulped down a quart of water to raise his weight to 175—safely over the 175 pound limit—and gave Lesnevich such a pasting that the champion emerged with a big cut under his right eye and his bloodied and his ego also slightly damaged.

"I just couldn't get going," explained Lesnevich, who weighed 178. "Bivins is a tough fighter and a good fighter."

Entering the ring a 11-10 favorite, the champion had only one good round—the tenth—although he managed to get a slight edge in the fourth and the fifth with the third even and the remaining six going to the Cleveland negro.

Champ Down Twice
Lesnevich, from Cliffside Park, N. J., fell the floor twice: A smashing right to the jaw sent him down for no count in the second, while he slipped to one knee ducking one in the fourth session.

For the money they tendered Promoter Bob Brickman, the customers saw two knockouts. Joey Maxim, 181, Cleveland, disposed of Herbie Katz, 176, Brooklyn, at 1:06 of the sixth round on Katz's third trip to the floor. It was carried for 10. Army Sergeant Joe Muscato, 188, Buffalo, N. Y., put a technical knockout on Charley Roth, 187, Detroit, at 1:43 of the second in a go slated for five.

In other five round prelims, Johnny Lawer, 158, Cleveland, punched hard on the infighting for a decision over Tommy Yarosz, 160, Monaca, Pa., and Curley Denton, 148½, Cincinnati, got the hand over Hank Claypool, 150, Cleveland. Tom Cesty, 152, Detroit, took a four-round decision from Eddie Morgan, 148, Cleveland.

BOWLING

Citizens Ice increased their hold on first place in the Pastime League by winning two from the Salem Label five last night on the Grate alleys. Bill Pauline led the way with 617 which included 248 in his last game. Dal DeRhodes posted one game of 224 and a 569 total. The Iccmen won the first game by nine pins, lost the second and came back with a 956 to win the third.

Jacksons pulled into second place by taking all three from Sponsellers while Albrights were losing two to Bloombergs and dropping into third place. Jacksons, who as the Salem China team in the National League, set the season's high of 1073 in one game Tuesday night, continued to give a good account of themselves last night. Gene Pugh had 605 and the team chalked up a 2753 total.

For Sponsellers, Judy Myers started with 222 for a 586 total.

Bill Shepard hit the high game of the night, 255, 190, 211—656, and thus helped his Gold Bar team take three from Loudons. Jim Armstrong of Albrights had 222, 205, 175—602. The Strop Club took advantage of Mike Miller's 596 series to trounce Hunts three times and the Eagles took two from Pennies.

The pace setters of the Masonic Ladies league, Ohio Edison and Salem News, kept right on rolling at the temple alleys last night as they scored a shut out but it was the third place Kreges five which caused the excitement. With Helen Caldwell and Helen Roessler rolling a 212 and 205, respectively, the Kreges team ran up a 935 total their second game. Caldwell and Roessler both had a good series, the former firing a 557 set and the latter a 519. Kreges' copped but two from Warks, however.

Ohio Edison league leaders stuck to their torrid pace to shut out the Browns while the Salem News handed Stark's the same treatment. Pauline of Salem News fired a 201 her middle game. In the other match scheduled for last night, the Mullins kepters took a pair from the Bankerettes.

LAKE GUILFORD TO BE POPULAR WITH DISTRICT ANGLERS

County Fishing Spot To Open Current Season In Near Future

One of the spots certain to be popular with district anglers this spring is Guilford lake, state owned water in Columbiana county south from Salem.

In the past Guilford has remained closed until after the state conservation council decided to keep it open for spring fishing. Of course, the lid will be clamped on bass fishing from April 30 until June 16, as in all state lakes and streams.

But Guilford, which contains approximately 500 acres of water surface, has enough bluegills, crappies and catfish to provide fairly good fishing and bass also can be taken until the prohibition becomes effective. However, the arm extending north of the dirt road from Winona eastward will be closed as a spawning sanctuary. It covers about 25 acres. Some ice fishing has been done at Guilford this winter. No motorboats will be allowed on the lake.

Beach City Popular
Beach City reservoir also will be open this spring and will get its share of fishermen. A portion of the northeast end will be closed from April 15 to June 15 inclusive. The Portage lakes will be open as usual but fishing will be prohibited in the channels and marked spawning areas until June 30. Nimsilla reservoir, close to Turkeyfoot lake, will be fished hard, as last spring, but the only shore fishing permitted will be from the east peninsula and the islands.

The old Ohio canal from Massillon north to Canal Fulton will be opened to public fishing on June 16, two weeks earlier than last year. No boats are allowed on that stretch of water.

Anglers who ply the streams will run into an occasional "safety zone" from which no fish, minnows, frogs, turtles, crabs, mussels, helgramites or other aquatic life can be taken from April 15 to June 15 inclusive. These zones will be marked by red and black signs.

Safety Zones Listed
Safety zones on streams in this part of the state, fished by district folks:
Stark county—Beaver Canal between Magnolia and dam below Waynesburg; Deer creek from confluence with Mahoning river up to Portage county line.

Carroll county—Indian Fork creek for a distance of four and a half miles; McGuire creek for a distance of four and three quarter miles.

Tuscarawas—Connotton (One Leg) creek from old railroad bridge above New Cumberland for a distance of one mile up; Sugar creek two stretches.

Wayne—Salt creek at Fredericksburg; Killbuck creek from Burbank up one mile.

Columbiana—West Fork, North branch and Little branch of Beaver creek at various places.

SPORT CHATTER
By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, March 12.—When Hobbs Adams called out his Kansas State football candidates this spring after giving the meeting plenty of publicity, only 20 boys showed up instead of the 100 he expected.

Jimmy Johnston broadcasts that his boy, Abie Simon, has a swell chance against Joe Louis because Joe will lack confidence if Jack Blackburn isn't in his corner. Bobby Robertson, the Southern California footballer, has been signed for the Lou Gehrig picture to play the role of one of Lou's Columbia pals.

Asked to pick an All New England conference basketball team, Coach Bill Kenyon of Yale named the Rhode Island State starting lineup.

George Ruppert has decided to run his fishing contest again this year, figuring the navy has left some good spots open to fishermen and the anglers will continue to seek relaxation.

Today's Guest Star
Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. "To look at the Widener stakes crowd at Hialeah on Saturday, you'd never have guessed that there's anything wrong with this country except a shortage of good guesses. The winner ($32.80) didn't make Rhyme reason."

Service Dept.
The "amateur athlete" now lists 48 names on its roll of present and past national A.A.U. or intercollegiate champions in the services. Two names carry stars meaning "gave his life for his country." They are flying Lieutenants Jim Humphrey, former Southern California footballer, and R. Fuller Patterson, Princeton pole vaulter.
